

Chinese American Athletic Association

The Chinese American Athletic Association (CAAA) is an organization that supports sports within the Chinese community of Los Angeles . Established in 1980 CAAA is known for its basketball league, and has grown to over 300 basketball teams with more than 2,000 players participating worldwide. Along with basketball CAAA also holds tournaments for other events such as track and field, tennis, table tennis, and swimming. CAAA's purpose is to provide Chinese Americans the opportunity to participate in sports, while at the same time interacting with other members of the Chinese community. It has succeeded to become the largest Chinese sports association in Los Angeles.